

TWO DIXON KIDDIES HAVE CHILDS DISEASE

CASES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS HAVE BEEN FOUND AT THE SPELMAN HOME.

THIRTY ONE IN STATE NOW

Dread Epidemic Spreading Slowly—
New York Death Rate is Growing.

(Associated Press)

New York, July 11—A large increase in the number of deaths and new cases of infantile paralysis are reported here. During the last 24 hours 32 deaths have been reported.

This is an increase of 100 per cent in the number of deaths in the last 24 hours.

Springfield, Ill., July 11—With one new case at Decatur, Eureka, Dalton City and Maraca, the total number of cases of infantile paralysis in Illinois is 31.

Florence Spellman, aged 7, and Wilbur Spellman, aged 4, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spellman of 607 Chamberlain St., are suffering from infantile paralysis, the dreaded disease that is sweeping over the country. Both children have had rather light attacks and neither one is entirely paralyzed, although the little boy is in bad condition and the little girl is affected in one foot.

The children have been suffering from infantile paralysis since about the first of July, although it was not known by the attending physician that their illness was what it is. A physician was called to attend them soon after the first of the month and the symptoms at that time could be taken for stomach trouble or rheumatism. The little boy was at his worst about July 4th. The physician was not called back after the first few days, when the children apparently became better and it was not until the further symptoms developed and Dr. Parker, city health officer, was informed of the case and made an inspection late yesterday afternoon that the nature of the case was known.

Under Quarantine.

Dr. Parker quarantined the house and sent the three other children in the family to stay with relatives.

Tells of Disease.

A Dixon physician was asked by the Telegraph to give an interview on the subject of Infantile Paralysis.
He says:

There are few diseases of which our knowledge has increased so rapidly during recent years as acute anterior poliomyelitis. A great deal can be said in regards the pathology and etiology, but we will leave that to the medical profession to discuss and give to you a general outline without the use of technical words.

Elks Lodges Throughout U.S. In Flourishing Condition

(Associated Press)

Baltimore, July 11—Fred C. Robinson of Dubuque, Ia., grand secretary of the B. P. O. E., in the grand lodge which opened its annual session here today, submitted his annual report which showed the order to be in flourishing condition. He said that 13 years ago the grand lodge had met in this city, and that despite the hoodoo of "thirteen" comes back in the best condition it ever has been.

The report said:

"During the past year we find that 43,320 new members have joined our rank, making a total membership on April 1, 1916, of 453,516; 14 new lodges were added, the last dispensation issued being No. 1340. During that time 181 members were suspended or expelled, 19,237 stricken from the rolls for non-payment of dues, and 5,114 were deceased. These figures indicate a condition that challenges the earnest attention of those who have the welfare of the order at heart and who are endeavoring to place it upon a solid foundation in the fraternal world. Not that the figures are much larger than in former years, but they go to show that the lodges are beginning to realize that it is useless to carry on the register undesirable members.

Patrol Boats Sunk.

Vienna states that four or five British patrol boats have been sunk by the Austrian cruiser Novara in the Lower Adriatic. All were destroyed by gunfire and went down in flames, three of them after the explosion of their boilers, according to survivors, of whom there are but three.

HIS MOTHER IS ILL

Simonson and Morrill, two of the trio of Rose City Hikers, en route from Portland, Oregon, to New York City, continued their journey from Dixon after a few days' visit here with relatives. Kenneth Hollister turned back because of the illness of his mother.

The Rock River Assembly will

of and enjoyed.

The Bible conference program for this session is a strong one and a larger attendance is anticipated for this session. The conference is growing in interest.

Begin arrangements to attend the Assembly this summer and bear in mind that the opening day is not far distant. It is advisable to get an Assemblyman and give it careful study, for there is something on the program that is sure to attract everybody.

TURN TO GOOD POSITION ON THE ROAD.

MAY MOVE TO MINNESTA

C. A. Ogden, formerly associated with Keyes, Ahrens, Ogden Co., has resigned his position with that firm to accept a position with his old employers who have made several efforts during the past to induce him to go back with them and the last time made a proposition so favorable he felt it expedient to accept.

Mr. Ogden is followed with the best wishes of his former business associates and many friends and it is a matter of regret that owing to the territory he will cover it is quite possible the family home may be in Min-

COOK COUNTY C.O.P. IN BITTER STRUGGLE

TWO SLATES HAVE BEEN PUT IN FIELD—ANOTHER IS THREATENED.

(Associated Press)

Chicago, July 11—A bitter factional fight among Cook county republicans was made certain when two separate slates were announced today.
The Thompson-Brundage faction held a county convention of delegates selected by ward committeemen and nominated a full county ticket. The Deneen faction remained away from the convention and later put up a full slate by combining with progressives.
Friends of Frank L. Smith of Dwight, republican candidate for governor, are talking of putting a Cook county slate in the field.

Dr. Werren was called but the unfortunate man died soon after the physician arrived at the home and Mr. Treffer's body was taken to the Gonnerman undertaking parlors. De-doing considerable contract work.

For some years after coming here he

THINK DEUTSCHLAND WILL BE GIVEN O.K.

STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS BELIEVE U. S. WILL NOT RE-STRICT SUBMARINE.

U. S. NAVY EXAMINING BOARD

Capt. Hughes Today Gave Gigantic German Subsea Boat "The Once Over."

(Associated Press)

Washington, July 11—On the strength of advice from navy experts who inspected the Deutschland the treasury department has informed the state department that the submarine was an unarmed freight carrier and could not be converted for offensive use without "extensive structural changes."

Washington, July 11—State department officials expressed the belief, based on unofficial information, that the Deutschland will be declared a peaceful merchantman.

The state department will not interfere with the shipments of nickel on the Deutschland, explaining that any agreement of American purchasers of Canadian nickel not to re-export the metal are purely private.

REPORT ANOTHER BIG SUBMARINE IS ON WAY

A dispatch from Amsterdam says according to the Berlin Vossische Zeitung, commercial submarine Bremen, constructed by the owners of the Deutschland, has already left the harbor.

ALLIES SAY SHIP IS POTENTIALLY A WARSHIP

Representations have been made to the state department by the British and French embassies claiming the Deutschland is potentially a warship even though designed and used as a merchantman. The department will take matter under advisement in connection with the report of Captain Hughes, U. S. naval expert who is making a physical examination of the ship.

The allies contend that the Deutschland could not be stopped and searched, therefore, she must be regarded as a warship subject to destruction on sight.

NAVAL EXPERTS ARE INSPECTING DEUTSCHLAND

The American naval officers detailed to determine the status of the Deutschland went aboard today and began their inspection. Capt. Konig was not present but the officials were shown through the ship by a North German Lloyd official with Konig's permission. Deutschland began to unload her cargo at 9 a. m. today.

WILL NOT CARRY ANY PASSENGERS ON RETURN

Baltimore, July 11—According to representatives of owners of the Deutschland she will not carry any passengers on her return trip. It is said two applicants offered $5,000

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old St. Louis"
PITTSBURG

Pittsburg is a coal-black metropolis with flame trimmings, and inhabited by joy riders on the steel tariff. Over 200,000 people live in Pittsburg and several hundred millionaires scattered around the world, live on it. Pittsburg makes most of the steel for the universe and it has steel mills instead of cabbage patches for suburbs. Ten shiploads of iron ore are mixed with ten trainloads of coal every day and the result is a ring of permanent volcanoes around the city. When these are in full blast they form a Great Red Day, of which Pittsburg is much prouder than New York is of her Great White Way. As a matter of fact Pittsburg's Red Way is responsible for New York's White Way. A millionaire fully equipped is turned out of her steel mills every time the sun sets and a Pittsburg millionaire gets into trouble in New York every time the sun rises.

Pittsburg is located in the western part of Pennsylvania, where the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers join and hold their combined names down into Ohio. Originally Pittsburg had an annex called Allegheny City which was a desert of front doors, without a postoffice, railroad station or theatre. But it followed the example of its steel trust and benevolently assimilated its rival, thus becoming the eighth city in size in the country. It climbs the steel hills from the river banks in all directions and has made their summits bristle with two-story buildings. It is well built but poorly ventilated, and on damp, cloudy days looks like the inside of a cistern with the lid on.

Pittsburg has more banks than any city in the world. A Pittsburg man who isn't a bank director is as lonely as a man whose great-great-grandfather isn't buried in the Grand cemetery. The banks in Pittsburg have driven the drug stores and saloons from all the good corners in the town.

Andrew Carnegie and Hans Wagner are Pittsburg's two greatest citizens, and are very kind to their home town. Carnegie is always building a technical library or a music hall, and Wagner is continually publishing a home run just to show that he is in the running.

FARMER IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Beat Engine Over Crossing.

Nashville, Ill., July 11.—Former Deputy Postmaster J. William Washburn, thirty years old, was killed by a Louisville and Nashville train here.

Washburn, who was returning home from his farm in his wagon, heard the engineer's signal, and in an endeavor to quickly cross the track, was struck by the engine. His neck was broken, both horses were killed and the wagon demolished.

TWO KILLED WHEN LIFT FALLS

Peoria Furniture Man Loses Life in Grand Rapids Building.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 11.—Two men were killed here when an elevator in the Klingman Furniture Exhibition Building dropped four stories.

They were Robert Siegler, the operator, and T. J. Stapleton, a Peoria furniture buyer. Seven furniture men had been carried in the elevator on the previous trip.

SLEEP WALKER CHAINED TO BED

WIFE CONCEALS KEY TO PADLOCK THAT IMPRISONS HIM AT NIGHT

BEEN AFFECTED FOR TWELVE YEARS

Farmer Is Arrested for Killing Young Deer While in Somnambulistic State

Cadillac, Mich.—Who says they don't believe in dreams? You can bet that Joe Kelly, farmer at Pleasant Lake does. Joe is such a firm believer in dreams that he has to sleep now with his body chained to the bed posts while his wife each night hides the key to the padlock that imprisons him.

What is perhaps the strangest case of somnambulistic action ever recorded is credited to Kelly. However, that didn't save him from a fine for killing deer out of season. On the other hand it only served to make his unprecedented experience the more strange.

For years Kelly has been troubled with somnambulism. It was nothing for him to wake up in a strange part of Wexford county early almost any morning, shivering with the cold and at a loss to know just where he was or how he came there.

Usually he drove his saddle horse or team to distant parts of the county. On several occasions he has been halted in Cadillac at night by patrolmen who know him and who soon learned that in his sleep Kelly would be apt to do most anything.

But the climax came when Kelly rose in his somnambulistic wandering, dressed, procured his rifle, and went out "shining" deer. Strangely enough he chose as his pastures the dense corpse near the Harrietta Township line where deer are shot every season.

With the "shiner" at work Kelly, in his sleep, went about the work of capturing a deer. His efforts soon were rewarded for the strong light attracted the fleet footed animals and Kelly bagged a fine doe as his trophy.

With the precise mechanism of the sleep walker he set about to do exactly what he would have done had he been thoroughly awake and in full control of every sense.

He disembowled the deer, saving those portions which hunters usually go. Then, tying the feet of the animal he slung it over his back and trudged homeward.

His awakening was destined to be the roughest of his career, with some very startling developments later. On the road home he happened across Sheriff Louis Chamberlain of Wexford county and Chief Deputy Phil Tobin of Harrietta. The pair halted their team of horses as they neared Kelly.

It was evident that Kelly would not give any portion of the road. With his eyes staring and fired ahead of him, and walking slowly and firmly, Kelly approached the obstacle in his path.

"Hello, stranger," saluted one of the officers in an ordinary tone of voice. Kelly remained silent. As he neared the sheriff's team Kelly stepped to one side and continued walking. He was being guided properly and as he came opposite the officers their astonishment did not permit them to speak.

Sheriff Chamberlain was the first to note Kelly's unusual appearance. He immediately arrived at the conclusion that Kelly was in the grip of a nightmare for there was no other solution to the wide open, staring eyes, the measured tread of the sleep walker, the mechanical motion of his limbs.

Fastening their team the officers followed Kelly and for four miles they trailed after the somnambulist. They watched Kelly string his game as he would a hog, place his rifle away, wash his blood stained hands and disappear in the house.

Assured that Kelly had retired, the officers made their presence known. Kelly had retired and his wife had awakened him. When confronted with the story of the deer hunt Kelly denied it vehemently. He nearly collapsed when the officers explained what they had seen and their story was corroborated in detail.

Kelly was arrested for hunting deer out of season but was not compelled to go with the officers. He drove them to where their team was hitched and two days later appeared before justice. Kelly, pleaded guilty, in view of his affliction.

Kelly has taken all manner of treatment for his sleep to cure him of his sleep walking. The surest way to keep him at home nights, he says, is to chain him to the bed, and this is done. He has been addicted to sleep walking for twelve years. Kelly is 48 years old. He owns one of the finest farms in this section.

HEARST'S RANCH IS CONFISCATED

Carranza Takes Over Big Holdings at Barbicora.

U. S. WARNED OF VILLA RAID

Outlaw Has 2,000 Followers—Carranza Forces Are Pursuing Bandits—Villa Is Marking His Foes by Slashing Off Ears—Congressman Would Buy Mexican Border Territory.

Columbus, N. M., July 11.—John C. Hayes, manager of the Hearst Barbicora ranch, nearly 100 miles south of General Pershing's camp, passed through here on his way to El Paso. He reported that the ranch had been taken over by the commander of the Carranza garrison in that district and that the property now is being operated by a manager installed by the military authorities.

Hayes left Barbicora at the time the Americans quit Namiquipa for the retreat north. He brought 110 horses as far as Galena to save them from seizure by Carranzistas, who were coming to occupy the territory abandoned by the Americans.

Warns of Villa Raid.

Washington, July 11.—A second warning that Villa bandits are headed for the Big Bend district of Texas was given to the state department by Elsie Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate. He told Acting Secretary Polk his government had given him definite information that the bandits were moving northward toward Boquillas, Texas, and promised the cooperation of Carranza forces.

Would Buy Border?

Washington, July 11.—Appointment of a commission of five members, to include one senator and one representative, to negotiate with Mexico for the purchase of lower California and the northern states of Mexico, was asked in a resolution introduced by Representative Caldwell.

Ramos Pursuing Villistas.

El Paso, July 11.—General Matias Ramos, nephew of General Ignacio Ramos, who was killed in the recent Carrizalito fight, is pursuing the Villista band under Calisto Contreras into the mountains of Durango, according to a telegram received by General Gonzales at Juarez.

The message from General Trevino at Chihuahua City said the Villistas did not give battle at Las Nieves, as expected, but continued up the Rio Florida. Ramos has a force of 1,500 men.

Francisco Villa appeared in Jimenez after its capture by bandits, according to La Democrata, a Carrancista organ published in Chihuahua City, a copy of which has been brought to El Paso by travelers.

Villa Cuts Off Their Ears.

This paper states that after annihilating the de facto forces under General Ramos at Carrizalito, the Villistas entered Jimenez, sacked the place thoroughly, put to death the Carranza officials and gave the captured Carranza soldiers their choice of joining their party or having their right ears cropped. Calisto Contreras was then in command, the paper says, but later Villa entered the town in a carriage. He is pictured as having walked on crutches and as having seemed badly crippled in the legs.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat turns and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quart of a pound of Limestone phosphate which is free of arsenic and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsum coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsum coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

USE DIMMERS ON YOUR LIGHTS.

Nearly every automobile driver takes unnecessary chances at times. Some automobile drivers take unnecessary chances all the time. The first fellow is tempted by bits of good road, a challenge from a passing car, or something of the sort, and he "hits her up" for a few moments. Then the other fellow, who drives like mad all the time, plays tag with eternity and makes everybody uncomfortable when they ride with him. There is the "road hog" who can't move fast enough to get out of his own way, but he insists upon staying right in the middle of the road and kicking up all the dust he can. Hanging is too good for him. And of course you know the smart alec who comes tearing by from behind without warning, nearly wrecking your car and nearly going into the ditch himself, causing your heart to "miss" about three explosions. Then there is the nut that goes skating along the road at a good clip and all of a sudden, out of a clear sky, he throws on every brake he has with all his might. And then if the car behind him rams into the rear of his car he is highly indignant and demands damages. He is a brother of the fellow who turns around in the street like a pup chasing his tail with absolutely not warning to those following or coming toward him. These fellows should be seeing the world through strong iron bars, set close together. And the world is burdened by several other varieties of squirrel food.

But—
Of all the different members of this large family of popular pests, known scientifically under the Latin name of Gaso-goof, the first part, Gaso, being derived from—but you get the drift and we wander from our theme, for what we were going to say is that the Prize Pumpkin, or Most Revered Grand Simp of the whole tribe is the driver who will not dim his headlights when meeting other cars on country roads at night.

A driver who dims his headlights on meeting other cars thereby demonstrates his experience and ability as a good driver. The fellow who goes tearing past at a forty-mile gait, with his front lights in full glare, is making a silly fool of himself in the eyes of his own passengers as well as the people in the other car and he is merely demonstrating his green awkwardness in his inability to make the road visible to others as well as himself. It is as easy to dim the lights of a Ford car as any other, simply by reducing the speed of the engine. The drivers who "meet and pass in the night" with lamps dimmed have a mutual feeling of brotherhood and respect for each other. The fellow who will not dim his lights has the respect of no one on the road.

AN ACCOMPLISHMENT WORTH WHILE.

If you think you have had obstacles to overcome, you should visit the farm of John Honeycutt, south of Amboy, some day. And you should use the caterpillar type of wheels on your vehicles, for you will find Mr. Honeycutt's farm surrounded by a vast ocean of fine, white, deep, hot sand. And if we were to properly describe the kind of a road you have to drive over to get there the government authorities might not allow the paper to go through the mails.

But after you get there, and you find Mr. Honeycutt's farm up on the top of a sand dune, and you see 70 or more acres of the finest potatoes you could wish for growing and flourishing, along with the corn, the wheat and the barley, then you begin to have more and more respect for Mr. Honeycutt.

Honeycutt's farm covers more than 400 acres. When he took it, the land was worth about fifty dollars an acre. That is, it was held for about that much, but many people said it was worth a pinch of salt and all it would grow was sand burrs. Now it is worth perhaps three times that much and the land around it, which is just the same, has increased in the same proportion. And Honeycutt has done the trick.

Now that the strawberry season is over, we look for something else and we find that the campaign cigar season is becoming dangerously near.

Crop conditions right now are so much better than they were last year at this time that everybody in the land is smiling broader every day. The farmer will reap a golden harvest this year, if all goes well, and when the farmer prospers, everything prospers, for the farmer controls financial and merchandising conditions in America.

Daddy's Bedtime

Story— The Kitchen Dishes Have a Merry Dance.

The Broom Crowned Her.

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

JACK and Evelyn climbed up on daddy's knees, so he told them the story that a young man once told a princess and her parents, the story of some matches and their friends on the kitchen shelf: "Let's have a party," said an earthen pipkin. "I will begin by telling you all about the things we all experience, something you all understand and that we all like. By the eastern sea and Danish beaches—"

"That's a nice beginning!" cried all the plates. "Well, I passed my youth there in a quiet family. The furniture was all beeswax, the floors washed, and clean curtains were put up every fortnight. "You're a fine story teller!" shouted the broom. "With clean things running all through it you might be a woman telling it."

"That's right!" cried the water pail, giving a little hop that splashed water on the floor. So the pipkin never did get on with its story, although the broom crowned it with a wreath of parsley just for fun. All the plates clattered for joy, and the other dishes clapped.

"Now I'll dance," said the tongs, and she began to dance. How high in the air she could throw her legs! The old chair cover in the corner nearly burst laughing when she saw the dance. "May I be crowned, too?" the tongs asked. So the broom crowned her with a wreath of parsley, just like the pipkin's.

"They are only the rubble," said the proud matches, who were rather stuck up. Then the tea urn was asked to sing, but it refused, saying it had a cold and could only sing when it was boiling. But really it was too stuck up to sing except when it was on the dinner table.

"On the window sill in the kitchen was an old quill pen which the servants used to write with. There was nothing unusual about it except that it had been dipped into the inkpot too far. But it was rather proud of this.

"Outside in a cage is a nightingale that can sing if the tea urn won't," said the quill pen.

"I think it is most unkind to invite a strange bird to sing when we have a tea urn that's one of us," said the kettle, who was half sister to the tea urn. "I will leave it to the market basket to judge."

"I detest this way of having a party!" cried the market basket. "If we all minded our business we could have a good time."

"Let's have a row instead of a party!" shouted all the kitchen things at once. "Then daddy stopped for his good night kiss."

TWO DIXON KIDDIES
HAVE CHILD DISEASE

Nearly all epidemics occur during the summer months, and about 80 per cent of cases are seen in the first three years of life, the greatest incidence being in the second year, although persons of any age may be attacked.

Until recently no effort was made to isolate cases, but owing to later experiments and findings, we know that the specific virus belongs to the class of filtrable viruses, and that it is a living organism, can be killed by heat, and will pass through the finest porcelain filter, and can be transmitted from one animal to another as proven by Flexner and Lewis, although it has never been cultivated outside the body, nor can it be seen with the highest powered microscope.

Experiments indicate that the mode of invasion is through the nose and at times the intestinal tract, one man finding the virus persisted in the mucus membrane of the nose of a monkey for five months. But the period of incubation varies from four to thirty days, the average being ten days. We have two forms, the sporadic and the epidemic, and at present have difficulty in differentiating between the two. The occurrence during epidemics of many unrelated cases strongly suggesting other means of invasion than by the direct contact with the individual infected.

The onset being abrupt ushered in with fever, prostration, vomiting, and rarely with convulsions, severe pains in the neck, and spine and the extremities. These are a few of the gross symptoms, so do not put too much confidence in your own knowledge, but call a physician early. Early and persistent treatment will accomplish much in preventing extreme and permanent disability.

BRITISH JOIN IN

London, July 11.—The Manchester Guardian says: "We are ready to join in the laugh against ourselves and applaud the skill and daring of the Captain of the Deutschland, who appears to be a sportsman who has earned his laurels cleanly." The Guardian points out that an Australian submarine went from Australia to the Dardanelles, and adds: "Von Tirpitz warned America last spring that she was not too far distant for Germany's arm to reach her, and though the Deutschland is unarmed she is none the less a threat to the American navy."

Tonight the Princess theatre will present Bob Leonard and Ella Hall in the photo play entitled "The Silent Man of Timber Gulch," a story of the mountain country that will surely please all. Also "The Devil's Image" featuring Hobart Henry and Irene Hunt in a two reel society drama, and "Never Lie to Your Wife," a comedy with Billie Rhodes in the leading role.

CORT THEATRE, CHICAGO

Maude Elburne, the comedienne, who is continuing to climb high on the theatrical ladder of fame by her impersonations of efficiency house-keeper in "A Pair of Queens," H. H. Frazee's great farce success at the Cort Theatre, Chicago, is on her good behavior these days and she wouldn't miss a cue or mistake a line in the play for anything. Maude has been under constant surveillance recently, for her severest critic is her nine year old daughter Marian.

Marian is a golden haired youngster of the precocious kind. She is a pupil at a Canadian convent but now vacation days are here and she is with her mother. She knows all her mother's lines in "A Pair of Queens" and all the stage business. For a week now she has been perched on a high chair in the wings where she can keep her eyes on her mother.

"You were not very good tonight, mother," said the youngster after a recent performance. "You missed several laughs."

And Maude never said a word for she knows it's bad form to quarrel with a critic.

Joe Glavin was a visitor in Polo Monday evening.

Secretary Der Kinderen and H. E. Sennett went to Lake Geneva yesterday to attend a Y. M. C. A. meeting.

"WEEDS USED IN MEDICINE"

Is the title of a very interesting pamphlet recently circulated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It illustrates and describes the medicinal qualities of roots, leaves and flowers of our most common weeds, which are nature's remedies for disease. From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was originated more than forty years ago, and the demand for it has increased until now it is recognized as the standard remedy for female ills.

SOLDIER DIES IN WHIRLPOOL

Pennsylvania Guardsman Drowns in Wash River on Way to Border. Danville, Ill., July 11—Special trains bearing the Sixth Pennsylvania to St. Louis stopped at Cayuga to permit the soldiers to take a plunge in the Wash river. Thirty were caught in a whirlpool. All were rescued and revived except Private William Carr of Media, Pa., a member of company H. His body was recovered early Monday and shipped home in charge of the chaplain.

WENT TO VISIT A FEW DAYS; GONE 42 YEARS

Woman Who Left Home a Tot Writes to Brother.

Rock Island, Ill., July 11.—Forty-two years ago, when she was six years old, Gusta Nowack went to the home of a neighboring woman to remain with her a few days during the absence of her husband. That was the last seen or heard of the child, who had long ago been given up for dead, until Sunday, July 9, when her brother, John Nowack, of Rock Island, received a letter from her from St. Joseph, Mo., where she resides.

She is now Mrs. George M. Chatfield. Two brothers and two sisters of Mrs. Chatfield live in Rock Island. She is coming here to visit them.

NURSES START SUMMER HIKE

They Go Around Chicago from Mendota to Niles, Michigan.

Joliet, Ill., July 11.—Two Mendota nurses, who conceived the idea of walking to their summer camp at Niles, Mich., to get fresh air and sunshine, passed through Joliet where they met three sisters, who will accompany them on the long health hike. Miss Gertrude Fuller and Mrs. Jake Ely are the Mendota women. They said they will walk around Chicago "to escape its gapping throngs." From Joliet they will go to Valparaiso, Ind., from there through Laporte to Niles, Mich., where their camp is located.

WOMAN RISKS HER LIFE TO SAVE LA MESA DAM

Faces Storm and Opens Gate Letting Flood Into Spillway—Smiles After Danger is Over. San Diego, Cal.—Ting-a-ling. A telephone call jingled at midnight. It wasn't far off for the wires, bait down, were swaying in the storm outside.

But it was loud enough to awaken the woman in the dark little room. "Turn loose the water in the reserve mains at once. You'll have to hurry to save the dam."

That was the order that came over the telephone.

Mrs. Mary McQuarrie, custodian of the La Mesa dam, didn't lose a second's time.

Out into a rainstorm she sped without waiting to don clothing other than a loose wrapper which she threw over her nightgown.

Tumbling, slipping and falling she finally managed to get to the bottom of the steep, rocky ravine at the base of the dam.

She was out of breath and her body was bruised and scratched, but she twisted the wheel on the shut off valve with a man's strength. The force of the waters as they rushed out wrecked the pumphouse and drenched Mrs. McQuarrie.

She came out the next day and took one look at the rising waters in the dam, at the rushing spillway several feet deep in water.

"You risked your life to go down there last night," they told Mrs. McQuarrie, "and you saved the dam."

Mrs. McQuarrie smiled. "That's what I am here for," was all she had to say.

Mrs. McQuarrie is on the job every day in the year as custodian of La Mesa dam.

It was during the height of the recent rainstorm that her prompt action saved the structure from flood waters that rushed down on it. During the rains she stayed on her post, never consenting to rest from her long vigil until the fight against the floods was won.

Mrs. McQuarrie's husband was drowned at Cuyamaca Lake during a rainstorm three years ago. He was keeper of the dam at that place.

In appearance Mrs. McQuarrie is a motherly, pleasant looking woman of about middle age. She enjoys life with her daughter, her little home at the dam, her chickens and garden.

But she has always one eye open for the safety of the dam. That's the most important thing for her.

"I feel safer with Mrs. McQuarrie on the job at La Mesa than if a man were there," says Col. Ed Fletcher, who employs her.

TOO MUCH PRUNES SPOIL HONEYMOON OF INDIAN

He and His Bride Eat Meal at St. Paul and Doctor Had to be Called in.

St. Paul, Minn.—Heap-Fight-Much is the son of an Indian warrior. During the twenty two years or more of his existence he has been taught to take things as they come. Smile at pain and laugh at death, tradition has told him. Such is the religion of the White Earth Indian reservation.

But on his first visit to St. Paul, Heap-Fight-Much cried. It was this way. Tall, good looking and athletic, it was natural that he should be popular, particularly among the opposite sex. And, consequently, Mose, that is his other name, decided to get married.

Two months ago Heap-Fight-Much took the plunge. A little Indian maiden by the name of Happy-Sunlight was the lucky girl. Needless to say, she was the most envied girl in that district.

They arrived in St. Paul on a sort of honeymoon. They were en route to Granite Falls to visit relatives. Near the Union depot they spied an inviting restaurant and Mose always ready to eat, went in. Stewed prunes were included in his order.

A few minutes later the police ambulance pulled up. And Dr. R. A. Schnacke said, "acute appendicitis." So Heap-Fight-Much and Happy-Sunlight were packed into the ambulance and hurried to St. Joseph's hospital. On the way the machine jarred.

It was too much, the tears broke forth, and Mose reached for a handkerchief. "First time," he said, "but it hurts so much—too much prunes." He was operated on in the afternoon.

THIRTEEN EGGS FROM ONE HEN

Big Ones! All Delivered at Same Time! Affidavit!

Port Arthur, Texas—Gus A. Migurski of this city is the possessor of eleven hen eggs measuring each 4 inches from end to end. Migurski has an affidavit from the man from whom he secured the hen fruit setting forth the fact that all of these eleven eggs and two more came from one hen—at the same time! Henists in this section are perplexed. They should be read an affidavit of the nature of the one Migurski's holding.

The man from whom Migurski secured the eggs was running a hotel at Sabine Pass, Texas. He killed the hen in order to feed his boarders. The thirteen soft shelled eggs were inside the hen, so recites the affidavit. In extracting them two were broken. The remaining eleven were put up in an alcoholic solution and at the present time are perfectly sound in the keeping of Migurski.

Folly and fame roost on the same perch.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Dixon Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Dixon woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. C. Charlton, 516 Lincoln Ave., Dixon, says: "I suffered for a long time from pains across my back and sides. The trouble was particularly severe at night and early in the morning. When I bent over to lift anything, I was hardly able to straighten up again. My kidneys were inactive, too. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Leake Bros. Co.'s Drug Store, weren't long in giving me relief." (Statement given May 21, 1912.)

On January 21, 1915, Mrs. Charlton said: "I use Doan's Kidney Pills whenever my back gets lame or sore and they always help me."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Charlton has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ALLIES AND FOE MAKE ADVANCES

French Capture Heights Key to Peronne.

HILL 97 TAKEN BY STORM

Teutons Regain Lost Positions at Trones Wood, Barleux and La Maisonnette Farm—French Start New Offensive at Champagne—Russ Crossing the Stokhod.

London, July 11.—While the French stormed and occupied Hill 97, a height dominating the Somme southeast of of Blaches, as well as German positions near Barleux, and the British made a new advance northwest of Contalmaison, the Germans also had victories to record in the recapture of the Trones woods, La Maisonnette farm and the village of Barleux.

The retaking of the Trones woods, which the British captured Saturday night, came after a series of violent attacks. The attack that succeeded was the sixth in twenty-four hours and was made with all the power of the German machine.

More Prisoners Taken.

The British and French war offices each announce the capture of several hundred prisoners in the day's fighting. Several guns also were taken.

Without relenting in their drive on the Somme the French opened up a new attack in the Champagne. The capture of trenches over a front of 500 meters west of Mesnil was announced as a result. In the capture of the line of trenches near Barleux the French made 850 prisoners.

The British statement admits the recapture of the Trones Woods, but says it was accomplished at the cost of tremendous losses.

Russ Cross the Stokhod.

Petrograd, July 11.—The Russian forces advancing in Volhynia toward Kovel are crossing the river Stokhod at various points, closely pressing the Teutonic forces opposing them, says the war office statement.

The passage of the river is being accomplished under serious difficulties. The official communication says that the crossings have in most cases been destroyed by the opposing armies.

Rush Burning Bridge.

According to later reports regarding the crossing of the Stokhod at Uglit it declares, chief credit for the exploit must go to Colonel Kautseroff, commander of the Pavlograd regiment and chieftain of the order of St. George. Colonel Kautseroff, rushing forward at the head of his advance guards led them across a burning bridge under violent artillery and rifle fire.

Take 21,400 Prisoners.

"The total number of prisoners taken by General Kaledines from July 4 to 8 is 341 officers and 9,145 unwounded soldiers," says the official report of the Russian war office. "He also captured ten pieces of artillery, forty-eight machine guns, sixteen bomb-throwers, 7,930 rifles and sixty-two limbers and depots of engineering materials. These figures must be added to those given in the communication of July 8, which included 300 officers, 12,000 men and forty-five pieces of artillery."

Checked, Says Berlin.

Berlin, July 11.—The Germans have checked the Russian forces which were advancing in Volhynia in the direction of Kovel, the war office announces. The Russian troops moving toward the Stokhod line were everywhere repulsed.

ILLINOIS SOLDIERS "BROKE"

Men at San Antonio Haven't Enough Cash to Buy Postage Stamp.

San Antonio, Tex., July 11.—From millions to "mooching" was the short history of the members of the millionaire battery C in the First Illinois regiment of field artillery, which reached its critical chapter when the soldiers found each other wanting in tobacco to chew or smoke, or money even for the price of a postage stamp. Unable to pay for newspapers or carfare, the Illinois soldiers of the entire camp were broke, and until Aug. 10, when they expected to get paid, are looking toward Chicago for the comforts of camp life.

CLEARANCE FOR U-MERCHANTMAN

Surveyor of Port Holds Deutschland Peace Ship.

BIG QUESTIONS ARE INVOLVED

Composition of Crew and Real Owner of Vessel May Determine Whether It Is Naval Auxiliary—Effect on Blockade Arouses Speculation by Naval Men.

Baltimore, July 11.—The German merchantman-submarine Deutschland was formally entered at the Baltimore custom-house without opposition.

Guy V. Steele, surveyor of the port of Baltimore, made an official report to Collector Ryan advising that the Deutschland was an unarmed merchant vessel, entitled to all the privileges of any other peaceful ship sailing under the flag of a friendly nation.

Big Questions Involved.

Washington, July 11.—The fact that boarding officers found the German merchant submarine Deutschland wholly unarmed goes far toward simplifying any question as to her status as a merchant ship in American waters.

Officials realize, however, that the British and French embassies, while interested little in what the Deutschland has brought over, are concerned over the cargo of rubber and nickel she purposes to carry back to Germany, and expect that nothing will be left undone by Germany's enemies to prevent or hinder her clearance.

Although the fact that the submarine is unarmed is of first importance, such factors as the composition of the crew and actual ownership will have to be established to determine whether the submarine could be classed as a naval auxiliary.

No Guns on Board.

Collector Ryan at Baltimore reported informally that the Deutschland did not carry guns, was manned by a merchant crew, carried a cargo and was not a warship. A written report is expected later.

Officials said they had no reason to believe a special examination of the Deutschland would be opposed and that as the submarine is a new ship in merchant trade the United States must be wholly satisfied that she is what she professes to be and not a warship. If objections are raised that the Deutschland is a secret type and nothing but a superficial examination can be allowed, the state department is expected to insist on a thorough examination, as has been done in the case of steamships.

Does It Weaken Blockade?

Naval officers, while attracted by the great size of the submarine and her long voyage, are interested most in the fact that she successfully ran the allied blockade. Some of them pointed out that if a successful means of running a blockade had been perfected one of the most potent measures of warfare had become a thing of the past.

Until the customs officials report is received Acting Secretary Polk said that no action was contemplated by the state department.

"We must await the investigation of the treasury department," he said. "Until that is submitted the state department has no information upon which to proceed."

Mr. Polk said that for the time being, at least, details of the submarine were within the jurisdiction of the treasury department, aided possibly by the navy department.

Reports that the submarine is unarmed, Mr. Polk added, indicated that the state department's position would be much simplified.

NO SPLIT-SALARY SHOWN

Chicago, July 11.—State's Attorney Hayne has announced, following an investigation, that no charges preferred by Mrs. Page Waller Eaton against Mrs. Louise Osborn Rowe in which Mrs. Eaton alleged she was forced to pay a part of her salary to the latter while a member of the department of public survey.

The charges of Mrs. Eaton were followed by the sensational split-salary probe conducted by the civil service commission and were later taken up by the state's attorney for investigation.
